FORMED Pick of the Week: 32nd Sunday in Ordinary Time

In this Sunday’s Gospel reading, Jesus proclaims that the Lord is "not God of the dead, but of the living" (Luke 20:38). This may seem obvious to us now, but Jesus's words affirmed what we as Catholics believe about the Communion of the Saints. To be physically dead is not the same as being dead and annihilated. To be in God is to be alive forevermore.

God Bless,

Dn. Steve

From the Desk of Dcn. Steve...

This weekend’s readings remind me of the movie, “Seven Brides for Seven Brothers” – a great musical to watch as a family. The movie is about having faith in finding love and learning, through mistrials, that love is not easy.

When navigating through life, are we just going through the motions? Or do we challenge ourselves, expand our minds, hearts and soul to be the best we can be?

In the first reading we learn about sacrifice. Do we sacrifice our goals, family, and friends to stay true to our faith in God? Can our beliefs push us away from loved ones? Can our beliefs guide us in different directions throughout our life? Jesus taught us that following Him is not easy. Even Jesus suffered for us.

Whenever we get into a situation, a test, a crossroad in life, we have our faith in God. We need to pray and ask our Father for guidance. We also have our brothers and sisters here at church to talk to, to encourage us, to lean on when we are truly struggling.

As a Catholic community, we need to be there for each other, to help those who may need guidance, and to pray for those who need our prayers. We are a Heavenly family that needs our faith rooted in God.

To my brothers and sisters, always remember you are truly awesome, and with the Holy Spirit, we can accomplish anything we put our prayers to.

God Bless,

Dn. Steve

Seven Ways Families Can Foster Vocations

#1: Snuggle up and read a story. Add some books about famous saints to your bedtime reading. There’s even an amazingly creative Lego catechism!

#2: Watch a better movie. There are many Catholic films that depict heroic and interesting priests and religious. Check out A Mission to Love (on St. John Bosco).

#3: Set the record straight. Media depictions of dating and sexuality are often opposed to authentic love. Especially around teens, defend the sacrament of marriage.

#4: Encourage ‘dress up’ play. Just as children “play house” and pretend to be moms and dads, help them to imagine the life of a priest or sister. A sheet or towel can serve as a sister’s habit. A Ritz cracker makes a good host for Mass.

#5: Pray from the heart. In your family prayers, pray for more priests and religious. Let your kids hear you praying for their futures.

#6: Talk about vocations. Speak openly about vocations to marriage, priesthood, and religious life.

#7: Befriend priests and religious. Invite a priest, sister, or brother to dinner at your home. Personal relationships are key.

Families rooted in Christ are able to guide their children as they make life decisions and discern God’s call.
