WELCOME

With joy we welcome all who have gathered here with us to worship God.

“How good to sing praise to our God; how pleasant to give fitting praise.” (Psalm 147:1)

Let us lift up our minds, hearts, and spirits to our loving and merciful God, from whom all good things come.

FROM THE DESK OF FR. KEN...

God Restores Us

In the Old Testament, any person suffering from the contagious disease of leprosy was declared unfit for living within the community and for offering sacrifice and worship in the Jerusalem Temple (First Reading). Similarly, an unconfessed and unrepentant sinner becomes spiritually unclean, spiritually separated from the community of believers, and unfit to receive the Body and Blood of Christ in the Eucharist (1 Cor 11:27-29).

In the First Reading, God commands Moses and Aaron to judge whether a skin lesion was contagious. It was a tragedy for a covenant member to be diagnosed with a skin disease like leprosy. They were expelled from the community and forced to live alone or in groups with others in the same physically "unclean" state (Lk 17:12). They were required to show physical signs of their forced separation by shaving their heads, wearing torn garments, and covering their beards, all signs of death, penance, and mourning (Lev 10:6; Ez 24:17). They could not offer sacrifices in the desert sanctuary, nor, in Jesus' time, could they join the congregations of the local synagogues or worship in the Jerusalem temple because their unclean condition made them "unfit" for communal worship.

Like the psalmist in the Responsorial Psalm, we come before the Lord in the liturgy of worship to express repentance for our sins and, through His priestly representative, to offer God our sincere confession in the Penitential Rite. We seek forgiveness for our venial sins and the restoration of fellowship (mortal sins are forgiven in the Sacrament of Reconciliation). We acknowledge that sin is both the act and its injurious consequences. The psalmist reminds us that the humble contrition of the penitent sinner leads to forgiveness, and blessed is the sinner who experiences God's mercy and forgiveness, allowing fellowship with a cleansed soul and a sincere heart.

In the Second Reading, St. Paul reminds us that every Christian is morally responsible for his actions and the negative or positive influence his actions might have on others. All human efforts should give glory to God by living "in imitation of Christ." In this way, others who view your life as sanctified to God may be encouraged to follow your example, which could lead them to a relationship with Christ and their eternal salvation.

In the Gospel Reading, Jesus stretches out His hand, pronounces His divine word, and cleanses a leper, restoring him to his community and making him fit to offer God worship in the temple. The same miracle happens in the Sacrament of Reconciliation (Penance). We confess our sins to the Lord, and through the outstretched hand and divine word spoken by the priest in Jesus' name, the Lord God takes away the "uncleanness" of our sins and restores us to fellowship with Him and the covenant community.

Like the repentant sinner in our Psalm Reading, we should rejoice in the Lord because He has forgiven us. And like the lepers in the First and Gospel Readings, we should show our gratitude by praising God, sharing the good news of His mercy and forgiveness, and by making a personal commitment to believe in Him and obedience to His commands.

We should testify to our spiritual healing by living in holiness, renouncing sin, and demonstrating in our actions our love for God and our neighbor (Mt 22:36-40). As St. Paul wrote in the Second Reading, we should show our gratitude to the Lord by doing even the littlest acts that give glory to God so that others who see our example might believe and be saved.

"And the Word was made flesh...and dwelt among us."

Peace and Blessings,

Fr. Ken

FORMED PICK OF THE WEEK

6th Sunday in Ordinary Time (Year B:) Clean and Unclean

Watchformed.org

While we do need to take care of the daily necessities, sometimes we live a half-hearted life of "just getting by." But Jesus wants to give us life to the full. He wants to remove the things in our life that prevent us from appreciating the beauty around us, the gifts in our life, and truly experiencing the plans he has in store for us.

SERVE

When You Pray: A Clear Path to a Deeper Relationship with God

Feb. 21-Mar. 27, 2024
9:00 am & 7:30 pm

You know prayer is important, but you still find it challenging. Perhaps it's hard to find time to pray, or you're unsure what to do when you do pray. Or maybe you feel restless and distracted and don't feel close to God. Even the saints struggled in prayer...

Join us in the De Sousa House for a seven-part study. Inspired by the real example of the saints, we will learn how to pray with the same consistency, trust, peace, and passion that led to deep transformation in their souls. Books are available for purchase at the Parish Office or at DSH ($20). Contact Rosalyn@holyspiritfremont.org for more info.

Please note: Our prayer list is refreshed every week. Feel free to contact us to include your loved one. Go to <https://holyspiritfremont.org/request-a-prayer/> or call the Parish Office at 510.797.1660
