FROM THE DESK OF DN BERNARD...

Today's Gospel tells us about a blind man, Bartimaeus, "son of Timaeus." It was a belief during those times that if you were blind, either you or your parents had sinned, but Jesus debunked this.

Having heard that Jesus was passing by and knowing he would not be able to make it through the crowd that surrounded Him, Bartimaeus cried out in a loud voice. Though people tried to get him to be quiet, Bartimaeus kept his focus on Jesus and refused to be silenced. His cries caught the attention of Jesus, who called out to him. Bartimaeus threw aside his cloak, sprang up, and came to Jesus. Bartimaeus' action was a powerful symbol that showed his willingness to deny all that he had of value, knowing that Jesus was more valuable to him than anything.

You see, even before Bartimaeus had a personal encounter with Jesus, he already believed that Jesus was the Messiah for he kept calling, "Son of David!" Add to this, he called Him Master! Bartimaeus saw things more clearly than many of us do. He saw through his heart and knew who Jesus really was in his life. Though physically blind, he wasn't spiritually blind. His faith, Jesus said, had made him whole. Jesus didn't even have to touch Bartimaeus for him to receive his sight.

Like many of the followers of Jesus, we, too, at times disregard the call and needs of other people. We try to shut them out especially when we don't like them or when they annoy us. We become blind or pretend to be blind. By ignoring the needs of others, we fail to acknowledge our own spiritual blindness.

As this country is on the verge of voting for our leaders during this very decisive moment, we should pay attention and be very careful before we make our choices. We become blind if we don't vote or vote indiscriminately. Doing so, we become part of the problem when undeserved leaders take control of this country.

We become blind if we move further and further away from the founding principle, "One nation under God, indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all." Likewise, "In God we trust." Ours has always been a God first-oriented society.

As Catholic Christians, it is our moral duty to vote and not just do it for the sake of voting, but to have a well-informed and formed conscience.

The Ten Commandments should be our guiding light where we can discern good from evil. Absolute moral issues should be our highest basis in forming our conscience. Anything that is evil should be avoided and condemned. We should stand up for life, as well as seek the common good.

St. Pope John Paul II says that; intrinsically evil acts are any acts "hostile to life itself . . . whatever violates the integrity of the human person . . . whatever is offensive to human dignity".

At the top of the absolute moral issue is the termination of human life. Killing, such as abortion, genocide, euthanasia, death penalty, etc., are definitely a "no-no" to our faith. We believe that life begins from conception to natural death. God's commandments say it all. Only God who is the giver of life has the right to take it back.

We should have a formed conscience where we seek God's wisdom, as witnessed by Jesus Christ through the Gospel and guided by the Holy Spirit. When we vote by affiliation or identity politics without understanding, researching and analyzing concerning issues, then we are voting not based on our conscience; thus, we become blind.

When we submit ourselves to the constant bombardment of misinformation, lies, propaganda by one-sided media outlets and power-hungry government officials, we are not only brainwashed but blind as well.

"We need to participate for the common good. Sometimes we hear: a good Catholic is not interested in politics. This is not true: good Catholics immerse themselves in politics by offering the best of themselves so that the leader can govern." ... "One must choose the lesser of two evils". - Pope Francis

When we follow the Gospel that speaks of the truth, we see things clearly, for the truth sets us free.

God bless us all, and God bless the USA.
